

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

After Saturday's heavy rain, sleet and snow, paved surfaces have been left cold and wet. Clearing skies will allow temperatures to fall further, leading to ice formation.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Ice

Valid from 21:00 on Sun, 17th Mar 2013 until 09:00 on Mon, 18th Mar 2013

The public are advised to be aware that icy stretches are likely on untreated roads and pavements tonight.
